Chapter I

Introduction

Surprise ! The world is going digital !

If the CV keeps being an essential element for an integration in the professional world, LinkedIn becomes more and moreimportant. LinkedIn is now apart, with Github, of the fundamental tools of a developer to attract recruiters.

So, best to deal with it, and that's not that hard.

Chapter II

The project

As for the CV, we invite you to improve your LinkedIn profile, and to give it the necessary time.

LinkedIn workshops are organised on a regular basis. We invite you to participate to them, then to create your profile and\or improve it. Trends are moving in the recruitment sector and elsewhere, and a regularly updated LinkedIn profile has always more chances to attract recruiters.

If it's not already done, go on LinkedIn in order to create your profile, and that's all. No author file, nothing to push. Only this online profile will be evaluated.

However, before starting, please repeat 19 times the following mantras :

- Being original while keeping professional

- Being precise while keeping concise

- Help to be helped
